

Bruce Pascoe

author of Dark Emu

Did you know?

Aboriginal people did build houses, did build dams, did sow, irrigate and till the land, did alter the course of rivers, did sew their clothes, and did construct a system of pan-continental government that generated peace and prosperity.

Bruce Pascoe 2014

Bruce Pascoe is keen to share investigations for his book Dark Emu: agriculture or accident published by Magabala in 2014 and his ideas for reinvigorating our use of traditional foods and medicines.

Perth events

Sunday 11 and Monday 12 June 2017

The first public event on Sunday morning is a Walk and Talk with Richard Walley and family at Beedawong Meeting Place in Kings Park.

For bookings: www.beedawong.eventbrite.com.au

Bruce will join Noel Nannup at Walyunga National Park on the Sunday afternoon. Walyunga contains one of the largest Aboriginal Campsites and an Ancient Garden. Noel will introduce Bruce to these sites and together they will share their thoughts and insights into Aboriginal and Nyoongar Culture.

For bookings: www.walyunga.eventbrite.com.au

Monday evening will see Bruce joined by a number of Nyoongar Cultural leaders at the State Library Theatre to explore the findings of his book and its implications and relevance here in Nyoongar Country.
